History

David Christie was a lieutenant in the Royal Navy, who tragically lost his life on a Royal Naval diving training exercise in Portsmouth harbour on March 14th 2002, eleven days before his 29th birthday.

David was a keen archer and had been captain of the Aberdeen University Archery Club while studying chemistry, gaining both his Degree and Doctorate. He also shot for the Scottish Graduate Bowmen while he was in the navy.

David's family felt that the monies donated in his memory should go to the British Blind Sport Archery, and this trophy is provided from that fund. BBS Archery would like its archers to know the history of this award as a mark of respect to the memory of David.

David Christie, March 1973 - March 2002

Spotters Trophy

Visually Impaired Archery is a team sport. An archer and a spotter working together to achieve success.

However, there is more to being a spotter than equipment set-up and calling arrows. The Spotters Trophy aims to recognise all the support given to ensure that both individuals succeed, and the sport grows and is promoted.

The spotters trophy is awarded to individuals that may spot, support the growth of visually impaired archery, or support the smooth running of the sports activities.

The 2022 recipient of the spotters trophy is Sue Mangan.
